To enhance preventive measures, TEJ introduced a preregistration system for visitors by using various measures to prevent crowding, such as limit admission by time slots. For various events, the number of visitors was controlled in real time by setting a limit on the number of attendants according to the time of day. The entire Ginowan Seaside Park area was used for the various concurrent events to promote social distancing.

At the general booths in the exhibition hall, VR and computer graphics were used to provide a life-like tourist experiences, and to propose new ways to enjoy travel by offering a variety of ways to enjoy the new normal in travel. Taking thorough measures against the infectious diseases, TEJ this year sends a message of global turnaround in international exchanges to the world from Okinawa in effort to overcome the ongoing global crisis as soon as possible, he added.

Prime Minister Yoshihide Suga sent a congratulatory message to TEJ2020: Blessed with a wealth of tourism resources, our country will be unaffected by the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic and our government will ensure our commitment to restoring tourism demand in a way that will allow many

Abroad Resuming Tourism in Era of a 'New Normal'

The World Tourism Organization (UNWTO) and the World Travel and Tourism Council (WTTC) were present in congratulatory video messages at TEJ 2020. UNWTO's Zurab Pololikashvili said as tourism is faced with many hardships, all-out efforts can help the industry overcome them. The Forum, he said, offered the perfect opportunity to bring together tourism leaders from the public and private sectors in collaborating, sharing ideas and looking toward the future.

WTTC's Gloria Guevara Manzo said that today's unprecedented crisis requires some unprecedented action and collaboration. The protocols that have been developed in corporation with WHO and CDC define how the industry can reduce the risk of getting COVID while having a good experience. There's a way to co-exist and maintain and keep health and protect lives while at the same time resuming travel, she said.

Yoshiro Shimoji in his keynote speech introduced two policy measures for Okinawa tourism in the new normal era under the tag line of "Go and Chill Out in Okinawa" — the "promotion of epidemic-prevention tourism in Okinawa" to realize safe and secured travel, and the "improvement of tourist unit price" to shift from quantity to quality in tourism. Okinawa also plans to promote the concept of "workation" to attract more longterm travelers who require access to the medical and educational facilities.

In a video message, Bernadette Romulo-Puyat said that the Philippines is currently updating its NTDP to adapt to the new normal that includes assessing and evaluating policy measures initiated to mitigate the impact of COVID-19, and identifying and refocusing products in light of the new normal. Efforts include pursuing strategic thrusts such as ensuring responsive and timely formulation of policies in support of safe and fun tourism. It is collaborating with the Asian Development Bank and World Bank in providing assistance through the upgrade of local infrastructure, local economic development, disaster and crisis management and policy reforms.

Theme For Tourism to Re-start Growth

Risk Management and Sustainable Development in the Coronavirus Era

In the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic, six panelists including ambassadors to Japan and top executives from the public and private sectors in Japan gathered in Okinawa to share their insights about tourism in the post-coronavirus "new normal," sustainable growth of the industry based on the collaboration among diverse stakeholders, the need for partnerships between the public and private sectors, as well as the prospect of cross-border travels

Recovery Includes Five Priority Areas Supporting Sustainable Development Goals

Supporting the livelihoods that depend on tourism means building a sustainable and responsible travel experience that is safe for host communities, workers and travelers. To aid recovery, I have identified five priority areas: mitigate the socioeconomic impact of the crisis; build resilience across the tourism value chain; maximize technology in the tourism sector; promote sustainability of green growth; and foster partnership to enable tourism to support SDGs. (Video Message)

Mr. Antonio Guterres the ninth Secretary-General of the United Nations

Current Situation Provides Incredible Opportunities to Restart Tourism

If a solution to reopen borders and rebuild consumer confidence is not found in the months to come, over 100 million jobs are at risk globally. Nevertheless, the current situation has also given the industry an incredible opportunity to restart tourism and reassess the interdependence of the relationship between tourism, the economy, the environment and society. #### Domestic Travel Incentives to Boost Economy First

The Thai government has launched the Amazing Thailand Safety and Health Administration (SHA) to raise safety standards in the tourism industry and restore the confidence of domestic and international tourists amid the COVID-19 crisis. Tourism sectors in Thailand are able to apply for SHA certification. Thailand has issued a Special Tourist Visa (STV) for those from low COVID-19 risk nations as Thailand slowly opens up borders.

H.E. Mr. Jorge Toledo, Ambassador, Embassy of the Kingdom of Spain in Japan

Every Crisis Brings Opportunities

Several reactivation plans have been launched to guarantee the recovery of tourism amid the pandemic, including shortterm financial support: Next Generation EU Recovery Fund (140 billion euros for Spain in 6 years). Future uncertainties must be faced with perspectives based on local communities to increase resilience, sustainable tourism to promote ecological transition. diversification of destinations, activities, and travel schedules, In these difficult times, we are seeking opportunities.

Ms. Akiko Yoshida, Executive Senior Vice President, Japan National Tourism Organization (JNTO)

Restart of Tourism and Risk Management

To overcome the crisis of the tourism industry due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Japanese government launched "Go To Travel Campaign," aiming to stimulate the domestic tourism demand and to promote infection prevention measures. With the gradual relaxation of immigration restrictions, the government is preparing to accept visitors from abroad and is promoting the creation of new tourism content to be ready for the restart of the international exchange through tourism.

Mr. Tomohiro Kaneko,

Vice Commissioner

Japan Tourism Agency

Achieving Sustainability in Inbound Tourism

JNTO recognizes the importance of working with various stakeholders including local communities to make an enhanced effort to diversify tourist destinations to solve the "overtourism" problem amid development of sustainable tourism. Considering tourism as an essential tool to revitalize local communities and their cultural heritage, the JNTO continues to support the establishment of local systems to accommodate visitors, refine tourism contents, maintain relationships with travelers and share information

H.E. Mr. Ayman Kamel, Ambassador, Embassy of the Arab Republic of Egypt in Japan

Protocols Introduced in Sector to Boost Recovery

Egypt was among the first to take measures to control COVID-19: locking down and restricting incoming air traffic on March 23, including the suspension of Narita-Cairoservice, leading to an economic toll with tourism being the most impacted. In May, amid declining infections and pressing economic needs to return to business. Egypt began a comprehensive plan in compliance with WHO recommendations to resume domestic tourism through various incentive programs, then inbound tourism in July for all international visitors.

Mr. Eijiro Yamakita, President and CEO, JTB Corn

Ecosystem of Customer Journey

Now is a good time to reconsider tourism. Sustainable tourism will be achieved by creating the ecosystem of customer journey that places the highest priority on improving the customer experience in all stages of travel. To realize this, a strong partnership needs to be formed among stakeholders including not only tourism business operators such as accommodation and transportation providers but also entrepreneurs that can offer digital technologies that help secure social distancing.

UNWTO Urges Stakeholders to Work Together Toward Recovery

Mr. Zhu Shanzhong Executive Director, World Tourism Organization (UNWTO)

We will highlight the lessons learned from today's discussions, which can facilitate the recovery of the travel and tourism sector in the new reality. Surely, we are living in a challenging time, which we have never experienced before. UNWTO will stand stronger to be a global platform to make international cooperation possible. I encourage all stakeholders to continue to work on delivering thoughts and solutions on starting tourism in a sustainable way. (Video Message)

Working Together to Reach Sustainable Tourism

Key points from the Q&A centered on how the issues of health, safety and confidence in travel among consumers can play an essential part in creating the circular ecosystem of tourism. Panelists expressed how opening up borders will depend on conditions in other countries and worldwide to ensure travel can begin. Travel must also reflect quality as part of SDGs while stakeholders can play a role in disseminating information that travel is indeed welcoming and safe. To conclude the session, Dewey said, "By working together, we can create sustainable tourism."

Dark-sky Tourism Symposium

Theme Dark-sky Tourism

"Starry Sky Protection" Efforts to Spur Tourist Demand and Restore Ecosystems

Starry sky tourism is drawing attention both in terms of tourism resources and environmental protection. Since Iriomote Ishigaki National Park was designated as Japan's first Dark Sky Sanctuary by the International Dark-Sky Association (IDA) in 2018, tourism demand, economic effect and light pollution (including all kinds of negative elements or excess light affect the local ecosystem) measures are expected to attract public attention.

At the outset, Mayor Yoshitaka Nakayama of Ishigaki City said that the Yaeyama Islands boasts the best starry sky because of the total of 88 constellations observable in Japan, 84 of them are visible on the islands. Adam Dalton said during his video lecture that it is quite probable that Japan can become a leader in Asia in this field. Meanwhile, Hideyuki Ozawa in a livestream video from Tekapo, New Zealand -- designated as a dark sky sanctuary in 2012 -- introduced its post-designation impact.

In the panel discussion, Nobuaki Ochi referred to the Yaeyama Islands' present circumstances and issues, while Keiko Tomori expressed concern that people are yet less aware of the fact that light-pollution measures have a positive effect on ecosystems, human bodies and saving energy. Yasunori Takenaka cited a fact that the number of traffic accidents with Iriomote wild cats is increasing and expressed growing concern over ecosystems in which light pollution influences nocturnal wild animals.

Adventure Tourism Symposium

1:00p.m. - 2:00p.m.

Theme Potential of Adventure Tourism in Okinawa

Value-added Community-based Travel Leading to Personal Change

Masaki Yamashita said at the outset that Adventure Tourism (AT) could lead the travel industry once the COVID-19 pandemic is settled. AT is a form of travel that encompasses two or more of the three major elements of activities: nature and culture experience. He also recited five points: unique experiences; personal transformation through travel; better health after travel; challenges; and low impact on culture and nature.

Citing an international AT event in Sweden, Tatsuya Sakai said popularizing AT in Okinawa is a priority since it is in its infancy. Preparing for tours based on a project to promote and attract tourists to national and quasi-national parks, Yuki Tanimura provides AT-based tours to meet customers' demands. Akito Noike said that AT could help offset the wide gap in numbers of tourists between winter and summer seasons in Nagano prefecture. Mentioning a range of different cases overseas, Ken Serizawa pointed out that developing human resources is an urgent task since knowledge of tour coordinators and guides is the key to the success of AT. He added that it is important for local people to let AT participants know about what residents want to preserve and use it as an appealing point.

ISCO Presents DX (Digital Transformation) Symposium 3:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Theme Future of Okinawa Tourism: Learning from DX Advanced Areas

DX: Effective COVID-19 Fighter, Creator of Sustainable Society and Jobs

Digital transformation (DX) is being considered the key to combatting the COVID-19 crisis impacting the travel industry. At the symposium, two case studies were introduced: Estonia leads the world in this field with 99% rate of electronic ID penetration; and an electronic ID service was introduced this summer in Kaga City, Ishikawa prefecture.

The roles and potential that DX will play in Okinawa tourism were discussed. In a live-stream video from Estonia, Kota Alex Saito said the electronic ID system has become widely used to provide people in the low-populated areas with efficient administrative services. The system has been highly evaluated for people with low mobility and the elderly, while also being environmentally friendly for social infrastructures. However, he said it is important to identify problems since DX is not the end but the means to solutions. Kenichiro Fukushima pointed out that DX has boosted public recognition as an efficient way to combat the COVID-19 pandemic and alleviate labor shortages amid a global tendency toward sustainable society. He also said that it is necessary to make it user-friendly by combining it with analog devices. Daiya Miyazato said that attracting advocates who understand its merits is the key to effective promotion, while moderator Junichi Inagaki said the creation of common platforms can lead to a better flow.

The World Heritage Summit was held to disseminate broadly the attractiveness of World Heritage sites, in addition to sharing a variety of methods and issues in using and preserving World Heritage. The seventh summit this year was held in Okinawa as the project "Gusuku Sites and Related Properties of the Kingdom of Ryukyu" commemorated the 20th anniversary of its designation as a World Heritage site.

Welcoming the First "Tourism EXPO Japan" in Okinawa with Traditional Performing Arts

OKINAWA NIGHT was held on the first day to mark the first Tourism EXPO Japan in Okinawa. Okinawa Governor Denny Tamaki addressed the visitors, saying that Tourism EXPO Japan initiated the first major event held in Okinawa in fiscal 2020. With thorough measures to prevent the spread of infectious diseases, the prefecture will continue to spread the word that Okinawa is a safe and secure tourist destination which can serve as an example of how to effectively hold an event amid a new normal, while pledging a recovery from the sluggish demand in travel.

In showcasing typical Okinawan entertainment, leading experts of the Okinawa Karate Kamichi-ryu demonstrated their skills in karate "kata" techniques, the yakusoku/prearranged kumite and breaking of wooden boards, which generated fascination among visitors. # Ryukyu-style Reception Held in Shurijo Castle Working on "Visual Reconstruction"

Following the completion of OKINAWA NIGHT, participants were transported to the Shurijo Castle Park on eco-friendly EV buses which were built in a way to combat the novel coronavirus disease and participated in the Night Reception in Shurijo Castle. They were greeted by the governor and hosts at the entrance to the Shureimon Gate and visited the remains of Shurijo Castle. In the reception hall, they enjoyed watching Ryukyu dances and a video of the castle the way it used to be.

Okinawa Governor Denny Tamaki said in his speech, "Before dawn on October 31, 2019, the Shurijo Castle's eight facilities, including front, north and south palaces, were burned to the ground, but we are grateful to those who supported us with warm words of encouragement. We also ask you, who were now familiarized with Okinawan history, culture, arts and food at today's event, to send your messages at home and abroad." In the end, they appreciated the Shurijo Castle Projection Mapping, one of the most influential events for the reconstruction of the castle at the Kankai-mon Gate.

ResorTech OKINAWA Okinawa International IT Trade Fair 2020

October 29 - November 1 Okinawa Convention Center Organizer: ResorTech Okinawa, Okinawa International IT Trade Fair Executive Committee

ResorTech Attracts Broad Range of IT Solution Companies under One Roof

Covering about half of the exhibition hall's floor space at the Okinawa Convention Center, ResorTech OKINAWA Okinawa International IT Trade Fair 2020 was held concurrently with TEJ. In addition to operators dealing with system development, software work, information and communications, many IT solution-related companies from a variety of fields including interpretation, VR, and education at home and abroad featured booths at the event. According to ResorTech's aim in conducting efficient business meetings between various industry sectors in and out of Okinawa prefecture and IT solution companies in Japan and abroad, most exhibitors opened their booths in anticipation of the new normal era amid the COVID-19 pandemic. Also, the fair found many exhibits applicable to industrial progress in tourism to suit the new normal.

As a preventive measure against COVID-19, online exhibitions were featured at ResorTech where exhibit participants could view ResorTech-related symposiums and seminars. It attracted more than 1,800 participants in four days, underscoring a new form of trade exhibition that brings both face-to-face and online elements.

Various preventive measures were in place on the exhibit floors, including the use of masks or face shields by exhibitors, acrylic boards or transparent films placed in meeting spaces to prevent the spread of droplets.

Okinawa Governor Denny Tamaki and Taiwan's Digital Minister Audrey Tang Discuss SDGs and COVID-19

Taiwan's Digital Minister Audrey Tang gave a keynote speech online and later had a dialogue with Okinawa Governor Denny Tamaki in Conference Hall A1 from 4p.m. to 5p.m. on Saturday, October 31, 2020.

During her keynote speech, Tang said masks were distributed through strong support of 8,000 pharmacists in Taiwan amid the start of the spreading of COVID-19 worldwide in February 2020. She pointed to a successful effort in containing the virus in which a new system using IT was launched, making it possible to determine whether there was contact with infected individuals; and determine the specific number of masks available with specific locations of each pharmacy. The system continues to be improved.

In a discussion with Tamaki, they covered the importance of mutual understanding and the social-economic-tourism integration for SDGs, and how confirming such efforts will depend largely on digitalization. Tamaki said Okinawa plans to create a sustainable world in tandem with all industries and technologies to support the resort destination through events such as ResorTech, expressing his intentions to accelerate exchanges with Taiwan to take advantage of its proximity.

Hybrid-type Business Meetings Adopted for the First Time to Avoid Three Cs

New "hybrid-type" business meetings that combine new online and face-to-face styles at respective booths were introduced this year. Computer terminals for online business meetings were placed in the Ginowan Multipurpose Gymnasium. Once a designated appointment time comes, a buyer takes a seat in front of each terminal to begin online discussions with the seller in a remote location. Also, some exhibitors set some terminals at their own booths for online business meetings.

In addition to business meetings, for the first time, a total of 15 familiarization tours covering all of Okinawa prefecture were conducted for buyers and media representatives, in which some 100 buyers participated. The tours were designed to inspire participants to experience hands-on activities and sustainable development goals (SDGs).

Sellers Comments

About Business Meetings

Good points

- · We were able to develop informative talks with travel agents to attract tourists for the future as business meetings were held amid the COVID-19 crisis.
- It gave us a good PR opportunity for our area and it is rare to see so many travel companies gathered under one roof.
- · Meetings were efficient and fruitful with matching appointments.
- · We feel a sense of relief as we could open the event amid much concern over the COVID-19
- · Matching of appointments is a great idea. After securing a high number of appointments and sharing each other's information in advance, we were able to broaden specific discussions.

Issues

- The first day was useless with only 3 hours available. The second day was quite sufficient.
- · We had to speak loudly during the business meetings because of the mask/face shield/ partition board mandate to prevent the droplets in addition to the indoor noise, and repeated announcements on infection prevention. If preventive COVID-19 measures are needed, business meetings should be relocated.

5. Rate your impressions of our overall COVID-19 preventive measures.

- · We had no problems with transportation because many free shuttle buses were operating frequently.
- · Business meetings went smoothly thanks to matching appointments. It was great that I was able to visit the booths I could not make an appointment with in my free time.
- The event was held amid the coronavirus catastrophe, but the well-thought-out measures
- The event was divided into two venues, but it was effective in combating the virus.

Buyers Comments

About Business Meetings

Good points

· We were confused with the matching system in the beginning because of so many incoming email responses, but it was very convenient after all.

Issues

- The number of sellers was limited due to the COVID-19 pandemic. It would be better to increase the number of participating companies particularly from overseas by informing sellers more in making the fullest use of the online tool.
- It was too much trouble to go back and forth between the two venues located far apart.
- The mask/face shield/acrylic board requirements hindered the discussions with the other

In efforts to avoid the 3Cs (closed spaces, crowded places, and close-contact settings), the exhibition was divided into two venues -- Okinawa Convention Center Exhibition Hall and Ginowan Multipurpose Gymnasium -- to ensure a safer environment for the event that included full-scale measures, including body thermometers, masks and hand sanitizers.

Representatives from the Okinawan communities and the travel industry gathered in the convention center. Taking advantage of Tourism EXPO Japan as a foothold for recovery, they delivered heart-felt messages from Okinawa to the visitors. Meanwhile, government tourism promotion offices and embassies from overseas, local governments in Okinawa and other prefectures, along with private business operators opened their booths on the gymnasium floor.

As for outbound travel promotions, a variety of ideas and efforts were showcased in their booths reflecting the ambience of their destinations in preparations for the lifting of the travel ban in the future.

Survey of Trade Visitors

The largest business category of trade visitors was "travel agency / land operator," followed by "IT-ITC-related/communication service," underscoring an increase of "IT-system professionals" in the occupation category. The major purpose of visits by category was to "gather information," followed by to "increase knowledge," but to "obtain ideas for new business models" and to "expand business into new areas and arenas" made some gains. With high marks for COVID-19 preventive measure, the survey revealed a positive attitude for visitors seeking new business opportunities.

Visitor Registrant Counting (n=1,935)

Survey of Visitors

By purposes, more than 80% of respondents selected "attract industry participants," while those chose "attract travelers" by nearly 80% but revealing the high expectation to "broaden network within the industry" and to "attain specific business deal or agreement." Despite the exhibition being held amid the COVID-19 pandemic, overall satisfaction as well as satisfaction by purpose of the exhibition reflected their hope.

Results Achieved in This Exhibition

- Identified issues and measures in opening exhibits in the COVID-19 environment.
- Without expecting much PR impact in attracting Okinawan people, the exhibition provided a great opportunity to get our company's name known to visitors, more than expecting a high number of general visitors.
- Introduced new contents, still available in guidebooks, to travel agents looking for new approaches to satisfy diversifying traveler needs at this year's event and familiarization tours.
- $\bullet$  Produced future tours with the companies we had business meetings.
- Delivered the message of "Japanese charms remain unchanged" to the many people who visited our booth on general public days, despite the COVID-19 pandemic (overseas).
- Informed visitors of the tourist promotion center scheduled to open in 2022; survey helped us confirm the current recognition level, and served as a useful reference in taking future measures.
- Business meeting gave us a great opportunity to create products in the future.
- Realized which of our facilities gain higher interest.
- Conducted sales calls to local DMOs and travel companies in efforts of the Tohoku-Okinawa partnership, which became possible because the event was held in Okinawa.
- Checked to see whether the concept of our message for the exhibition, which was "a bit too deep but showed a highly theme-oriented island," was acceptable, even amid the market being in chaos due to the pandemic.
- Advertised ourselves to many visitors who stopped by at our booth; numbers of followers to our Instagram increased rapidly.
- Promoted our own products to domestic travel agents, communicated directly with the relevant travel agents and received specific inquiries.

As for travel arrangement, although online bookings for domestic and overseas travel dominated this category, it appears that some changes have been seen with the popularization of the Internet environment.

2020 PR & Advertising Activities

Theme Copy, Key Visuals

After the first (2014 to 2016) and the second (2017 to 2018) stages, this year has evolved and developed toward taking a more personal approach (B2C) from consumers' points of view. Focusing on Okinawa, the idea of "Creation and Potential of Tourism" was promoted to consumers under the slogan:

Take your travel up a notch

Creative Concept

Copywriting and visuals enhanced the sense of "wanting to travel" in consumers' minds. The key visual depicts a person leaving on a trip with Okinawan and worldwide resort settings, helping viewers to imagine themselves in such a scene that can invoke feelings of the hope to travel to a resort again someday soon. Also, the key visual was aimed at leaving visitors to Okinawa with the impression of TEJ as a "travel event or festival."

PR Activities

Continual coverage from organizers' message (at the press meeting), details of each program, in detail and highlights of exhibition booths by influential media in Okinawa was buoyed by the event organizers' efforts to accommodated broadcast, print and online media. Wide media coverage included the thorough safety measures put in place against COVID-19 as well as that of event sites, exhibition booths and the media's own experiences throughout the period of TEJ.

◆Results of PR Activities

Report of media counts: 151 Exposure volume: 766 Media TV: 26

All local TV media in Okinawa (ground-based broadcasting), including NHK Okinawa, Okinawa Television, Ryukyu Broadcasting and Ryukyu Asahi Broadcasting, aired their respective coverages. Okinawan newspapers such as Ryukyu Shimpo and Okinawa

Times sent their reporters each day for coverage, both placing first-day stories on their front pages that led to greater exposure. From the second day onward, they covered program contents such as digital interviews on ResorTech and the World

Heritage Summit with wider perspectives. The Nikkei included some event coverage in its Okinawa/Fukuoka edition.

News of the recovery of the tourism industry will be disseminated to the world from Osaka and the Kansai area where EXPO 2025 will take place.

VENUE/ INTEX OSAKA and the Surrounding Area

ORGANIZED BY/ Japan Travel and Tourism Association (JTTA), Japan Association of Travel Agents (JATA) and Japan National Tourism Organization (JNTO)

JOINTLY HELD/ VISIT JAPAN Travel & MICE Mart (VJTM) 2021

SIMULTANEOUSLY HELD/ Travel DX Solutions Exhibition (tentative) *former Inbound Tourism Business EXPO

5 Benefits of Exhibiting at Tourism EXPO Japan

- The venues are located in a large-scale commercial sphere which represents the gateway to Western Japan and include the three Kansai airports. High-quality business discussions about domestic, outbound, and inbound travel to Japan can be held.
- Travel agency buyers (last year: 645 companies) from not only the Kinki region but also from around the country, including the metropolitan Tokyo and Kanto areas, will participate and business discussions will be held over two days based on an advanced matching system.
- In addition to in-person business discussions through direct interaction at the Exhibition Business Meetings, there will also be opportunities for online business discussions held over the internet, making for a substantial range of selection of communication modes based on exhibition requirements.
- This will be an outstanding opportunity to be able to promote new travel styles for the new normal directly to the general public in the Kansai region (Expected number of visitors: 100,000)
- Held in conjunction with "VISIT JAPAN Travel & MICE Mart (VJTM) 2021," the event represents an opportunity to promote tourism services and products directly to buyers coming to Japan.
